Our Shared Mission

CORA's corporate partnerships go beyond the dollar to inspire and engage your employees.

We work together to engage and inspire partnering companies to create safety, support, and healing for domestic violence survivors and educate your employees and the broader community to break the cycle of domestic violence. Companies of all sizes have joined CORA's partnership program.

CORA is San Mateo County's leading and trusted domestic violence nonprofit. Founded in 1977, CORA remains the only provider of comprehensive intimate partner abuse services in the region.

Employee Wellness Training

Bring CORA's expertise to your company through our fee-based Employee Wellness Trainings. Your employees will benefit from learning skills and gaining awareness about domestic violence that create safer and healthier workplaces in our community.

Diversity Equity & Inclusivity

Domestic Violence 101 & DEI

In this one-hour virtual or in-person training, your staff will learn the basics of intimate partner abuse including, what it is, how to recognize it, and what to do if they fear a colleague may be experiencing abuse, or in immediate danger.

This training integrates DEI, providing examples of how intimate partner abuse can affect anyone and how different segments of the population are uniquely impacted.

Staff Well-Being

Domestic Violence for HR Departments

This one-hour virtual or in-person training on staff well-being in the workplace introduces the intersection of intimate partner abuse and mental health, while incorporating basic elements of Domestic Violence 101.
Our corporate partners benefit from county-wide brand visibility. We work together to maximize community impact and strategically elevate our partners at CORA’s center, community events, and highlight your support through communication channels reaching over 8,000 community members in San Mateo County.
